What is Obon?

(With thanks to Rev. Patti Usuki, retired BCA minister)

The Obon in Hawai'i

Every summer, people of all ages and religious backgrounds come together all over Hawai'i for Obon to celebrate being alive and honor those who have passed on. This Buddhist observance came to Hawai'i in the late 19th century with a large wave of Japanese immigrants.

Obon season is a time to express our gratitude to loved ones who have passed on before us. Without them, we would not be who we are today. We would not be where we are and we would not be able to do the things we do to enjoy life. Just think about the number of people involved in creating each of us. If we go back just thirty generations, we can calculate that there were over two billion parents, starting with our two parents, their four parents, and so on, and that's just the physical part.

Temples hold a Bon/Hatsubon memorial service to enable people to pay tribute to the departed. The service is usually held separately from the festival so that the sangha can participate in this solemn and respectful remembrance in quiet reflection.

The celebration of joy first began simply with Bon odori, or dancing. It is unique to Japanese Buddhism and is thought to have evolved from the Nembutsu Odori of dancers who played instruments while chanting "Namo Amida Butsu"—I take refuge in Infinite Light and Life, Immeasurable Wisdom and Compassion— symbolized by Amida Buddha. The festival was added much later as a temple fundraising opportunity, since the dance became an annual tradition that drew such large crowds of participants and onlookers.

As a celebration of joy, the bon dance is a way of expressing our gratitude to ancestors and loved ones no longer here; reflecting upon the preciousness and fragility of this life. Even though the sense of loss of family and loved ones is strong, a festive mood prevails at the dance.

"Teruteru Bozu and Jodo Shin Buddhism: Exploring the Significance during the Bon Season"

The Bon season, with its vibrant festivities and cultural traditions, holds a special place in the hearts of the Japanese people. Amidst the joyous celebrations, one sight that often catches the eye is the presence of Teruteru Bozu, those whimsical white dolls hanging from Yagura or Temple eaves.

These white cloth dolls, traditionally used as talismans to pray for good weather, showcase the aspirations and desires of individuals seeking blessings for various aspects of their lives.

While Jodo Shinshu firmly rejects the use of religious practices for worldly benefits, such as petitionary prayers and magical acts, the presence of Teruteru Bozu in other Buddhist schools reveals a contrasting perspective.

Shinran Shonin's teachings remind us of the Buddhist principle that desire is the root cause of suffering. As such, Jodo Shinshu followers view Teruteru Bozu as charming cultural symbols rather than objects of petitionary prayer.

By shifting our perspective, we can appreciate the kawaii (cute) charm of Teruteru Bozu during the Bon season while staying true to the core teachings of Jodo Shin Buddhism.

We recite the Nembutsu, calling upon Amida Buddha's name in gratitude for the boundless compassion extended to all beings.

The Bon season serves as a reminder to cultivate gratitude and express our reverence for the interconnectedness of life, transcending the narrow confines of personal gain.

As we enjoy the Bon Dance and other festivities, let us honor the spirit of Jodo Shin Buddhism by embracing the teachings of Amida Buddha and reciting the Nembutsu in deep gratitude.

May the presence of Teruteru Bozu during this season inspire us to reflect upon the impermanence of life and seek the path to liberation through reliance on Amida Buddha's compassion.

Namo Amida Butsu

Before the dancing begins there is a short Buddhist reflection. Following the reflection participants gather in rings around the yagura, a central raised platform, and dance to the accompaniment of songs and taiko drums. Everyone is encouraged to join in with the dancers as they circle around the yagura, wearing colorful yukata or happi coats. It doesn't matter whether you are Buddhist or not, whether you are new to Bon odori or whether you have "two left feet." The important thing is to leave your ego behind and simply express your joy and gratitude for life through the dance. Over the years, the ceremony and the practice of Buddhism itself has undergone significant change to adapt to the islands' multicultural society, which is reflected in the dance participants. Today the bon dancers are not only Japanese Buddhists, but Filipino, Chinese, Korean, Portuguese, Haole and native Hawaiian, regardless of religious background.

Rev. Masao Kodani, Minister Emeritus of Senshin Buddhist Temple, has pointed out that the memory of deceased loved ones should urge us to awaken to our deluded selves and live fully in Truth-Reality. Thus, Bon odori is a spiritual activity in which we "just dance, without fretting over how one looks, nor showing off one's ability ... dance just as you are with no conniving, no calculating, no image protecting or flaunting." But, he points out, most of us would rather practice before we feel we're ready to dance in front of others—in much the same way that we rehearse "really living" and only end up watching life go by. Just dance. Just BE, in every moment, and you will feel true fulfillment and pure, ego-less joy.

Seven Buddhist temples on Kauai will take turns holding Obon Festivals and dance almost every weekend from June to the end of July, making for a joyful summer of shared, family-friendly experiences.

Come join us for this joyous event; dance in the ring, volunteer to help, visit the temple, eat ono food or just take in the festive atmosphere.

Bishop's Corner

Bishop Eric Matsumoto

"Go forth...for the good of the many..."

On Sunday, May 7, 2023, the Pacific Buddhist Academy held

Commencement Exercises for 17

Graduates of PBA's Class of 2023. It was held at the beautiful 700-seat Moanalua Performing Arts Center which is equipped with state-of-the-art audio-visual systems and LED lighting not to mention air-conditioned. As is the unique tradition of PBA, the Head of School gave a tribute to each individual Graduate. Further, each Graduate expressed their appreciation by acknowledging the support they received from their families by giving a kukui nut lei to them as families were called onstage. The feeling of sangha was strong. The following is the Benediction of the Commencement Exercises delivered by Bishop Eric Matsumoto, the 16th Bishop of the Honpa Hongwanji Mission of Hawaii.

Benediction for Pacific Buddhist Academy's Class of 2023 Commencement Exercises

Today, as Pacific Buddhist Academy's Commencement Exercises for the Class of 2023 draws to a close, in the presence of Amida Buddha, All-Inclusive Wisdom and All-Embracing Compassion, let us reflect.

As we congratulate our Graduates, we hope that some of the universal Teachings and Virtues of the Buddha will guide our Graduates for the rest of their life. The most fundamental Teaching or Truth that the Historic Buddha, 2600 years ago, became aware of is that all life, all existence is interconnected and interrelated and nothing exists in total isolation by itself as depicted by the beautiful metaphor of Indra's Jeweled Net meaning we should mutually respect, care and appreciate one another. A virtue of an Enlightened Person is that the Buddha's very existence benefits both the Buddha and also everyone (and everything) else. It is not that one does something for oneself and does something else for someone else, but whatever one does brings benefit to (both) self and others, together, simultaneously. May our Graduates live their life and continue their endeavors guided by this virtue of the Buddha.

We hope our Graduates will be guided and inspired by Enlightened Wisdom and Compassion for more peace and harmony in the world. As encouragement, I would like to share the exhortation of the Historic Buddha to the monks and nuns of Ancient India to our Graduates (as they go forward themselves). The Buddha said "Go forth...for the good of the many, for the happiness of the many, out of compassion for the world, for the welfare, the good and the happiness of gods and people."

To slowly conclude, may we express our gratitude to one and all. Let us express our gratitude to each other. As we thank our Graduates for their endeavors, let us all express gratitude to all others who played a part in our lives.

Finally, to conclude this Benediction, for those who wish to join me, please join me in gassho/anjali, a gesture of reverence and respect in Buddhism, to recite Namu Amida Butsu, The Buddha's Name That I Call in Gratitude in response to Namu Amida Butsu, The Buddha's Name Which Calls Me to Entrust.

Namu Amida Butsu, Namu Amida Butsu. Namu Amida Butsu/ Entrusting in All-Inclusive Wisdom and All-Embracing Compassion.

Once again, we will be having Bon Dance this year. We haven't had one since 2019 so we are excited to plan for 2023.

Lihue Hongwanji will be observing the Bon/Hatsubon Family Service on Sunday July 2 at 9:00 am. Our Bon Dance will be the following Friday and Saturday, July 7 & 8.

Obon is a time to remember and honor all those who have passed on before us. It is to appreciate all they have done for us and to recognize the continuation of the influence of their deeds upon our lives. Let us honor and remember them through "Honoring Ancestors" Lanterns.

The lanterns are a wonderful opportunity to express our gratitude to our ancestors. Lanterns will be displayed at the temple lanai prior to and during the Bon festival. The deadline is July 2.
